

Selection Process Explained

Application for study in United States

Fellowship applications are conducted through bi-national selection committees sponsored by Fulbright Commissions/ Foundations or by the Cultural Affairs Office of the United States Embassy in the applicant's home country. All documents are sent to the Institute of International Education (IIE) in the United States.

IIE is a private non-profit organization that administers the student portion of the Fulbright Program. IIE helps students with enrollment, visas, insurance and transportation. IIE also aids students with obtaining grants to supplement the Fulbright stipend from many different foundations and organizations, of which the Delta Kappa Gamma World Fellowship Program is one.

Annually the IIE staff reviews successful international candidates and forwards applications for those who meet the criteria for Delta Kappa Gamma fellowships. From these, the World Fellowship Committee selects recipients for Society grants.

Application for study in Canada

In Canada, recipients may attend the universities of Alberta, Calgary, Windsor, Toronto, Ontario, Manitoba, Regina, Queens University and Brandon University. The screening process in Canada is administered by world fellowship committees in Alberta, Ontario, Manitoba and Saskatchewan.

Application forms are submitted to the international World Fellowship Committee for evaluation and ranking. Students in Canada may secure application forms from the World Fellowship Committee chair in each participating province.

EDUCATIONAL OPPORTUNITIES WORLDWIDE

How it Began

The World Fellowship Program began at the 1946 National Convention in San Francisco with approval of a project to aid women in war-torn countries. Four German women educators, with financial assistance from Delta Kappa Gamma members, spent eight weeks of study and visitation in Sweden in the spring of 1948.

The second step toward the present-day World Fellowship Program was the alliance in 1952 with UNESCO to provide special help for Korean women. During 1958–1960, the present program began to take shape, and an agreement was made with the Institute of International Education (IIE) to provide dossiers from which a Society committee could select recipients for study in the United States.

Work with World Fellowships was originally the province of the Personal Growth and Services Committee. In 1972 the World Fellowship Committee became a standing committee, with state organization and chapter committees added to the Constitution in 1974.

In 1978 the Institute of International Education recognized the World Fellowship Program with an award which is displayed at Delta Kappa Gamma Society Headquarters in Austin, Texas.
